

A woman with dark hair and a striped jacket sits on large, grey, textured rocks. She is looking towards the camera with a neutral expression. In the background, the Brooklyn Bridge is visible across a body of water. Three other people are standing further back on the rocks: a woman in a grey jacket and white pants, a man in a blue beanie and dark jacket, and another man in a tan jacket and blue jeans. The sky is overcast.

Behind her, three men stand on the same rocks. From left to right: a woman in a grey jacket and cream-colored pants; a man in a dark blue jacket and teal beanie; and a man in a tan jacket and light blue jeans. In the background, the iconic Brooklyn Bridge is visible against a cloudy sky. The overall scene has a slightly grainy, cinematic quality.
